BUCKSPORT HIGH SCHOOL,

AND CLASSICAL INSTITUTE.

THIS School, now in operation, will continue permanently under the care of JOHN B. L. SOULE, A. B., an experienced and successful instructor.

It will be the purpose of the Principal, and of those who may be connected with him, to maintain a school of the first rank—where, by means of a thorough and progressive course of study, a uniform and judicious discipline, and a careful vigilance over the intellectual and moral habits of the pupils, the young of both sexes may enjoy the greatest facilities for acquiring a sound, practical education.

Thorough instruction will be given to young gentlemen preparing for college, fitting them to enter the Freshmen, or advanced classes.

Terms of Tuition. For Common Studies, $4.00; For Higher Branches and Languages, $5.00.

Board may be procured on reasonable terms; and permanent arrangements will soon be made, by which pupils from abroad will be accommodated at very favorable charges.

The Fall Term will commence September 11th, and continue eleven weeks.

RHEUMATISM CURED.

DR. HEW'S Nerve and Bone Liniment and Indian Vegetable Elixir, is the only certain and effectual remedy for Rheumatism, Gout, Contracted Cords, &c. In the most severe cases the above application was never known to fail.

We multiply a volume of testimonials to these facts, but prefer to have persons call where the above may be had, and where they can see such proofs of its efficacy, that would convince the most incredulous.

REDUCTION FOURFOLD IN PRICES—OR NOTHING.

An article that every family must consider indispensable, when they know its power and value and which has heretofore been sold too high to bring it to all classes, has now been reduced fourfold in price, with a view that rich and poor, high and low, and in fact every human being may enjoy its comforts; and all who get it shall have the price returned to them if they are not delighted with its use.

We assert, without the possibility of contradiction, that all burns and scalds, every external sore, no matter where, shall be reduced to comfort in five minutes—saving life, limb or scar.

No burn can be fatal if this is applied, unless the vital organs are destroyed by the accident. It is truly magical, to appearance, in its effects. Enquire for "Connell's Magical Pain Extractor," at Comstock & Co.'s, 21 Courtland street. Price 25 cents, or four times as much for 50 cents, and ten times as much for $1.

TO THE OLD AND YOUNG.

HO! YE RED HEADS AND GREY!

PHENOMENON IN CHEMISTRY.

EAST INDIA HAIR DYE.

Colors the Hair, and will not the Skin

THIS Dye is in form of a powder, which in plain matter of fact may be applied to the hair over night, the first night turning the lightest RED or GREY HAIR to a dark brown, and by repeating a second or third night to a bright jet black. Any person may, therefore, with the least possible trouble, keep his hair any dark shade or perfect black; with a positive assurance that the powder, if applied to the skin, will not color it. By an occasional application, a person turning grey will never be known to have a grey hair. Directions complete with the article. There is no coloring in this statement, as one can easily test.

These facts are warranted by the gentleman who manufactures it, who is the celebrated Chemist, DR. COMSTOCK, author of Comstock's Chemistry, Philosophy, and other works, and School Books, well known and widely celebrated by the public.

PATENT MILL WHEELS.

THE Subscriber having for a long time given his attention to the construction and operation of Water Wheels, has finally succeeded in the invention of two kinds of Wheels for which he has received Letters Patent from the Government of the United States.

These Wheels are simple in their construction, cheap and durable, are easily put in operation, and are not liable like most other wheels to get out of order, they are not obstructed by back water, when the head is not diminished thereby; and the same power and speed is obtained, with about one half the quantity of water usually applied to wheels now in general use.

A great number of these Wheels are now in operation and give in all cases entire satisfaction; and for further information respecting them the following gentlemen are referred to, all of whom have some of said wheels in operation: Jacob Drummond, James B. Fiske, Amos Davis and Leonard March, Esqrs, Messrs. Fiske & Norcross, Foster & Gilman, S. P. & H. Strickland, W. T. & H. Peirce & Co. Bangor; Hon. J. S. Little, Portland; Hon. John Otis, Hallowell; F. A. Butman, Esquire, Dixmont; Robert Treat, Geo. A. Peirce, Esquires, Frankfort; Daniel Dennett, Esq. Milo; Col. Henry Orne, Milton; Messrs. Fiske & Bridge, Milford; Ira Wadleigh, Esq. Oldtown; Capt. R. Fittz, Dedham; John Black and John M. Hale, Esqrs. Ellsworth; Messrs. A. Campbell & Co. Cherryfield; Daniel Harwood, Esq. Machias; Levi L. Lowell, Calais.

The above wheels are manufactured and for sale at the Iron Foundries of MESSRS. HINCKLEY & FERRY and FRANKLIN MUZZY & CO. in this city, who are furnished with a great variety of patterns, so that Wheels of any particular description, or adapted to any given head of water, can be furnished at short notice. They are also authorized to dispose of the Patent Right for the same.

THE BOSTON ALMANAC, FOR 1844.

BY S. N. DICKINSON.

WILL be ready for purchasers in the early part of December. Orders first received will meet with the first attention. It will contain

A CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY,

OF ALL THE BUSINESS PEOPLE AND FIRMS IN THE CITY,

Alphabetically arranged under each business, or profession. The advantages of such a Directory consist, in bringing to a point, from all parts of the city, the names of all persons engaged in each particular business. For instance, in a small compass, under the head of Hardware Dealers, will be found the names and places of business of all who deal in that commodity. So of Dry Goods, Leather, Furniture, Iron, Hats, Hosiery, etc., etc., all so arranged, that the reader may see, at a glance, the names of all those who are dealers in any one article. A variety of other useful and interesting matter will be found in this little volume.

It will contain 25 or 30 pages more than heretofore, and be printed throughout on a new and beautiful Ruby Type, cut in Edinburgh, and obtained expressly for this work. The Calendar pages, as usual, will contain space for memoranda for each day in the year. It will be handsomely and substantially bound in cloth, and sold as usual, at 25 cents per copy.

Orders may be sent to the Proprietor, S. N. DICKINSON, 52 Washington Street, or to Messrs.

THOMAS GROOM & CO., 82 State Street.

In either case they will meet with prompt attention.

From the London Metropolitan.

THE POOR RELATION.

BY ABBOTT LEE.

Every body was freshly dressed and sat as stiffly as possible for the preservation of their good looks. It was the freezing, cutting, cooling, chilling half hour before dinner, in which the only amusement consists in personal criticisms. The ladies looked at each other's sleeves, and investigated their shape, speculating upon the genuineness of their gowns, whether the diamonds were real or only paste; wondered how each other could contrive to spend so much money, and she could manage to get it, and yet make such a figure of herself. The gentlemen pulled up their shirt-collars, and put their ringed fingers through their perumed hair; stole looks at themselves in the mirrors; and yet time seemed to stand still. The hands of the time-piece must certainly have been stationary; it had stopped; it was backward, it was much later than it indicated. Pity, that time, so much more valuable, should ever be heavier than gold.

For our own part, we are, in this late date of our own life, still astonished at the philanthropy of the world. People may talk of its unkindness, and want of benevolence and hardness of heart, and so forth, but we say that its urbanity and tenderness are quite wonderful. There was not one of the guests that day assembled in the drawing room at Swan Vale, who had not privately declared, that it was the greatest bore and trouble to them in the world to accept the invitation of its mistress to dinner; and Mrs. Mackillop, the lady-hostess, had positively affirmed in strictest confidence to every member of her family, that it was the greatest expense, and the greatest annoyance, and the greatest labor, and the greatest nuisance to have them; and yet when they met, every one of their invited guests individually and collectively declared that it was the greatest pleasure on earth to visit her, Mrs. Mackillop positively asserted that she had not a satisfaction in the world so large as that of seeing her dear friends assemble round her table. Now this is what we call an emulation in magnanimity and generosity, considering how particularly disagreeable it must have been on both sides.

Now we know that if the preluding minutes of the half hour before dinner are not honey drops to the guests, they are certainly poison drops to the hostess. She is so afraid that the cook will make a mess of things, that what ought to be hid will be shown and what ought to be shown will be hid; that her visitors will spy out some corner of nakedness, and that she may not have well spread out the field of plenty, that they will by mistake call her poor, and mean, and shabby instead of rich, liberal, and hospitable; that poor thing, she suffers a very miserable sort of martyrdom, indeed.

Thus sat Mrs. Mackillop, of Swan Vale, in her drawing room, in the midst of about twenty guests, trying to smile, and getting all the while a most uncomfortable red face, for, in addition to the nuisance of having so many guests who had come, she had the additional one of expecting two who had not come, and she knew that her dinner was frizzling and burning, and sizzling and spoiling, and she knew that her cook was in a most terrible passion, being, like all her profession, of a most peevish temper; and she felt the mercury of her own nature rising very high, and indexing itself on her face, and yet she persevered in smiling and smiling on.

REMOVAL.
The Whig and Courier Office has been removed to the spacious room in the second story of the Kenduskeag Market.

The election of Freeman H. Morse to a seat in Congress is not only a signal success to the Whigs in having so able, and faithful a Representative of their principles in Congress but it is a most righteous rebuke to the corrupt managers of the loco party in the last legislature who for the purpose of making sure of a party district to suit themselves, began among the islands in the Atlantic and crooked round among town lines, to the line of Canada, giving a huge, misshapen, monster district. This tramping upon all honesty and fair dealing in the apportionment was carried through by means of a bond, pledging the parties to a division of the spoils. So outrageous and abominable was this district made—so overwhelming the preponderance of the loco majority in it, that it seemed as though nothing short of the interposition of Heaven could have given the vote of the district to the Whig candidate. A power far above all the contrivances of party leaders has interposed against this tide of corruption and where the greatest sacrifices of honest principle were made and where assurances were strongest of success, there the rebuke has been given, and there defeat has been experienced. Thus it is at times, that Heaven defeats the plans of the wicked.

The difference between the two parties is very well illustrated by the manner in which the respective parties apportion the States in which they have the majority in the State Legislatures. In those States where the Whigs have the districting of the State, as in Massachusetts, Kentucky, Georgia, &c. we find a fair, honest, and impartial districting, so much so that no one complains. While the locos in several of the States, as in Maine, have trampled upon all right and decency with brute force to sustain their party. But the evil now begins to recoil upon the transgressors and honest men of all parties rejoice that it is so. Thus in the case of Andrews, the honest men of his own party rejoice at his defeat, and at the election of Mr. Morse who is known to be an honest, strong minded, right hearted man.

Here be Truths.
It will be seen by the following article from Hill's N. H. Patriot, that the editor of that Democratic paper, and the N. Y. Evening Post, edited by Mr. Bryant, bear strong testimony to the deficiency in principle, and the shameful management, which characterize the proceedings at caucuses and conventions of the Democratic party:

"Party Machinery, the New York Evening Post, in reference to the system in vogue in that city for appointing delegates to conventions, and committees for the nomination of candidates to be supported at the elections, says:

"It is a fact, admitted by all, that our system of nominations by conventions has become corrupt to the core. Our primary meetings have been a disgrace and a by-word. Frauds of the basest nature are openly and unblushingly practiced to secure delegates to the nomination committee, who will subvert the interests of a few corrupt politicians—who, like a greedy pack of hounds, set upon any man who dares expose their profligacy, the profligacy of those who owe their elevation to their shameless frauds, &c. &c."

New York city is not the only place where precisely such conduct as described above is openly and unblushingly practised, and afterwards avowed and justified. The present Governor of our State owes both his nominations to the office he now holds, to practices fully as unjustifiable by any rules of common honesty, as would be the basest political fraud ever perpetrated; while the members elect to the present Congress from this State, or two of them at least, could never have been nominated except through the grossest profligacy and corruption. And yet for not supporting such nominations, thus made, many of the oldest, firmest, and most consistent democrats in the State have been formally 'read out of the party,' and denied all participation in the primary meetings of the people. Such have been the operations of 'party machinery' in New Hampshire; its effects can scarcely have been worse in any other part of the Union."

The following is an extract of a letter from an officer on board the United States frigate Congress, to his friend in Washington City, dated at Port Mahon, Oct. 22, 1843.

"The U. S. frigate Congress arrived at Mahon on the 17th of October, after a most delightful cruise of nearly six months, during which time she visited the coast of France, Italy, Greece, Turkey, and in fact every port of interest and importance in the Mediterranean. Our beautiful frigate was the admiration of every one that has seen her. All in good health."

Latest news from Texas states that a small party of Mexicans had been surprised and captured on the Rio Frio. One of them was Leandro Garza, a noted spy and traitor. His horse was shot under him, and he was wounded in the shoulder, but even in this condition he made his escape to the bottom of the Rio Frio, where he was taken. The Mexicans have all retired beyond the Rio Grande.

We learn that the Department have instructed the appraisers to proceed with the appraisal of the land on the Tonawanda Reservation, and that a communication has been made to the Indians residing there, declaring the intentions of Government to carry out the treaty which has been entered into by a majority of all the Indians in council.

Jurisprudence and Legislation.
No. VI.

"Let all the ends thou aim'st at, be Thy Country's, thy God's, and Truth's."
[SHAKESPEARE.]

That the bench and the bar of this State and Nation, like every thing else that is human, are liable to err, there can be no doubt—but that their motives are generally pure, their learning and ability respectable, their decisions equitable and just, and their services laborious, and of immense value to the community, are equally true. There is, therefore, no reason or justice in the late miserable attempts to injure and degrade the public administration of justice. Upon this subject there have recently appeared in the "Law Reporter" several very able and interesting articles, from one of which we make the following extracts:—

"Discussions of this sort are more necessary, as attacks upon the judiciary have become very frequent during the past few years, and they are usually connected in some way with the vulgar prejudices which interested persons endeavor with too much success to excite against the whole profession. Indeed, it will be found that attempts to break down the judiciary are invariably preceded by assaults upon the bar."

"Of late years it has got to be a regular business of the demagogue to excite a prejudice against a profession whose honorable character he hates, and whose learning and ability he has good reason to fear—and such persons, by falsehood and low cunning, by a pretended regard for the people and a horror of the evils of litigation, are too successful in keeping our State Legislatures in a perpetual excitement upon all subjects connected with the administration of the laws—and pious attempts are constantly made to guard against imaginary dangers, which increase the very evils which these law makers seek to avoid. Thus by cutting down the just and proper fees, and opening the profession to every one who wishes to enter it, whether really qualified or not—in order to cheapen litigation—a high standard of professional excellence is lost, and a class of men come forward who create the business upon which they live."

"In some of the States, any man of 'good moral character' may practice as a Counselor—and in Maine, a law passed both branches of the Legislature at their last session, creating Town Courts, and providing for trial by a jury of six, before Justices of the Peace. No member of the bar can doubt that the result will be a four fold increase of litigation, a large proportion of which will undoubtedly originate with this new class of lawyers with 'good moral characters'—but it is just as clear, that the same business, in some way or other, at some time or other, will come into the hands of those gentlemen of respectability, who are able to conduct it properly—for unlearned and unskillful lawyers, like quacks in medicine, increase the business of those who are well qualified for their duties."

"So far, then, as the pecuniary interests of the bar are concerned, the profession may well suffer these wretched expedients, with which demagogues seek to deceive the people, to be adopted—and such has in reality been the case. But there is another point of view in which the bar owe it to themselves and the country, to interpose with zeal, energy and perseverance. No reputable member of the profession wishes litigation to increase further than seems necessary from the increase of population and business—but the expatriates referred to, tend directly to increase litigation of the worst sort—to lower the standard of the profession—to effect the respectability of the bench—and above all they are always precursors of direct attacks upon the Judiciary. In this view of the case, we repeat it, the bar owe it to themselves and the country, to resist this miserable course of legislation, whenever it shows itself."

In the course of these essays, we have endeavored to show that much time, wisdom, learning, experience, observation, and care, are necessary to devise, form, arrange, and systemize a code of laws, adapted to the varied wants of a great, commercial, and enterprising people. We have also pointed out the inconvenience, error, and folly of constantly changing those laws which have cost so much, and have so long answered all the rational purposes of distributive justice. And we have likewise endeavored to show how the financial, judicial, political, and moral interests of the country, have suffered from unwise, inconsiderate, ever varying legislation. We have likewise shown what must, in the opinion of enlightened, experienced minds, be the natural and useful results of substituting town courts for those which we have hitherto been accustomed. But the strongest argument against that ill advised and pernicious measure, remains to be stated.

The human mind is so constituted that in establishing courts for adjudicating between man and man, the great desideratum is, a pure and capacious fountain—that is to say, an independent, discriminating, and impartial tribunal, and far removed from the poisonous influences of popular excitements, and from the partiality and prejudice growing out of an immediate and frequent intercourse incident to contiguity of residence with the parties and their friends.

A Judge, residing at a distance, or so situated as not to come under such influences, or a Jury of disinterested men, from all parts of the county, and mostly strangers to the parties, is much more likely to be free from all improper bias, than a Petty Justice and his Jury, all residing in the same town with the parties, and all exposed, not only to the errors of ignorance, but to the pestiferous influences of business interests, family associations, partialities, alliances, and all the antipathies, prejudices, envy and malice, incident to a tale bearing, mischievous making neighborhood of uneducated, vulgar minds.

Sailed from New York, December 11th, in the packet ship Toronto, for London, the Hon. Abram Rencher, his wife and children, of North Carolina, Charge des Affaires of the United States at the Court of Lisbon.

From Oregon.

We learn from the St. Louis Gazette that ten men, who left with Lieut. Fremont, for Oregon, last spring, have returned to that city. They bring a very unfavorable account of the expedition, having been compelled for a portion of the time to subsist on horse flesh.

CONGRESS.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Dec. 13.
The Senate again transacted no business to-day, adjourning after a few minutes sitting, in respect to the memory of the late Hon. Samuel McKim of Ill., whose death (at Cincinnati) on the 27th March last, on his return home from Washington) was announced by Mr. Breese of Ill., followed by brief remarks from Mr. Allen, and the adoption of the usual resolutions of condolence, &c.

In the House, Mr. Adams was appointed Chairman of the Committee on Manufactures at his own request, on account of physical inability to perform its duties, was excused from service on that Committee. He had other reasons for this request, he said, which it was unnecessary to state.

The petition of Mr. Botts contesting the seat of Mr. J. W. Jones (Speaker) on motion of Mr. Elmer of N. J., was referred to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. G. Davis of Ky offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Elections to inquire and report whether the members from New Hampshire, Georgia, Missouri and Mississippi (whose names were cited in the resolution and who were elected by general ticket) have been elected in conformity to the Constitution and laws, and whether they are entitled to retain their seats as members of this House for the 25th Congress.

This, of course, was seized upon as a subject of debate (and in a great degree, but a repetition of the debates of two or three previous days) and was the pending question at the adjournment.

The resolutions of the Senate relative to the death of Mr. McKim were received, and after an eulogium of his character, by Mr. Wentworth of Ill. similar resolutions were adopted, and the House adjourned.

The editor of the New York Tribune, now in Washington, thus writes:—

There was very little done in Congress to-day, but some things indicated. For instance, I heard it avowed by prominent Van Buren men that it was their policy to get through the session with as little action as possible—that the Tariff question must be sauced off to a more convenient season. "But Mr. Spencer must have Revenue," it was urged. "Let him issue more Treasury Notes," was the dry answer. I have no doubt this line of conduct will be very warmly urged, but I think it cannot succeed. If the party, after abusing the Tariff for two years as a fraud, a grievous tax on the whole country for the benefit of the Manufacturing Capitalists, &c. were now to give it the go by, they would disgust or undermine thousands of their best men, and inevitably break up their present specious 'harmony.' The Calhoun men will not support Van Buren if his friends do not take bold, unequivocal ground against the present Tariff, or any Protective one. That is settled. I think stern Necessity—the fear of greater evils on the other hand—will compel them to get up and carry through the House a Free Trade bill, but they hate it dreadfully.

Again: Oregon is to be mounted this winter, rode and spurred out of breath. Benton and Bowlin of Missouri, yesterday could not even announce the death of Senator Linn without eulogizing the project of taking Military possession of Oregon, and to-day Wentworth (long John) of Illinois was guilty of the same violation of good taste, if not of decency. All this portends serious mischief.

Democracy.

There are few words which have been more shamefully distorted from its original meaning than "Democracy" as applied to one of the great parties of the day. To judge from the conduct and principles of the self-styled democrats one would think this word meant the government of a party, or the triumph of a faction. Two great measures have been advocated by the Whigs for many years, and adopted in the Whig States, which are directly calculated to establish the sovereignty of the people, and thus establish the great principles of democracy. We allude to the Registry of Voters, and Election of Representatives to Congress by Districts. The one guarantees the purity of elections, and makes the ballot box what it should be, the just interpretation of a people's will; while the other gives to the majority of the citizens in any congressional district the right of electing an individual to represent their interests in Congress, in whose integrity and ability they can confide. Yet these two truly democratic measures have been violently, and in some cases, successfully opposed by the self-styled Democratic party, who proclaim with a loud voice their repugnance to the purity of elections, and to the fair, proper, democratic representation of the people in the Congress of the United States!!

And furthermore, in four of the States, where "Democracy" is in the ascendant, the law of Congress directing that the district system should be established, has been openly defied and disregarded, and their members of Congress have been elected by general ticket—have received certificates of election from the Governors of those States, and have taken their seats, and voted at the organization of the House of Representatives. And this is DEMOCRACY! DEMOCRACY!! Well we may ask, what is there in a word?

We trust, however, that there is still virtue enough left among the party, to claim of their Representatives at Washington, who have been legally chosen, to purge the House of these men—to send them back to their constituents—there to remain, until they are chosen in conformity with the laws of Congress, and the true principles of Democracy.—Mr. Journal.

HUNT'S MERCHANTS' MAGAZINE December, 1843.

This popular and truly useful Magazine has been received by the agents in this city, Messrs. Smith & Fenno.

The original papers of this number are: Sketches of Commercial Legislation.—The Tariff of 1816. By Francis Wharton, of Pennsylvania.

Progress of Population and Wealth in the United States, in Fifty Years, as exhibited by the Decennial Census taken in that period.—Chap. XXI., and last.—Increase of Wealth.—By Professor George Tucker, of the University of Virginia.

The Cotton Trade. By Professor M. Cay, of the University of Georgia.

The Union of Protection and Free Trade.—Protection to American interests in Union with the Principles of true Free Trade, illustrated by the Report of the Central Committee of the Home League, at its second Anniversary. By C. C. Haven.

What shall Congress do?—Reduction of Postage.—Commercial Treaties.—The Navy.—Maritime Law, No. 3.—Collision of Ships.—By A. Nash, Esq., Counsellor at Law, of New York.

These with the usual quantity of statistics and miscellany make an interesting number.
